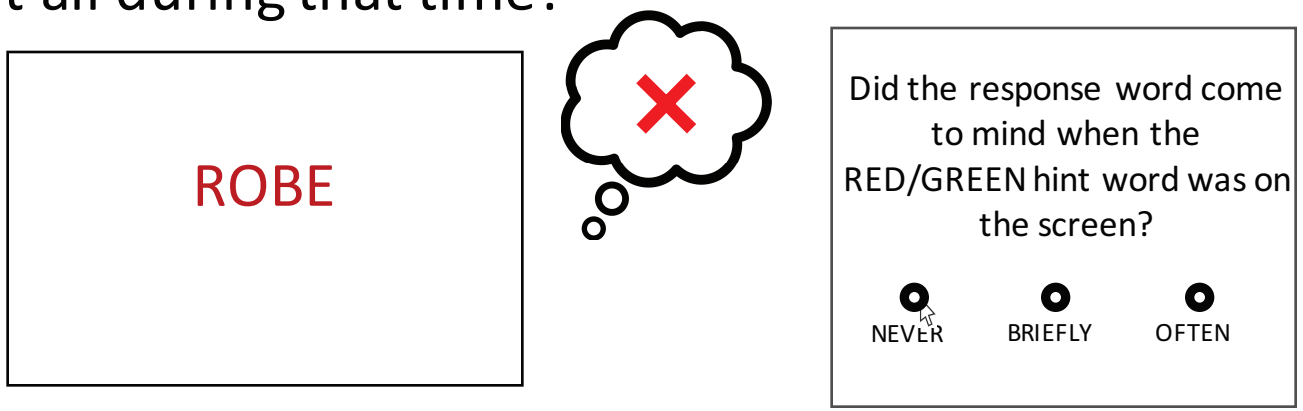
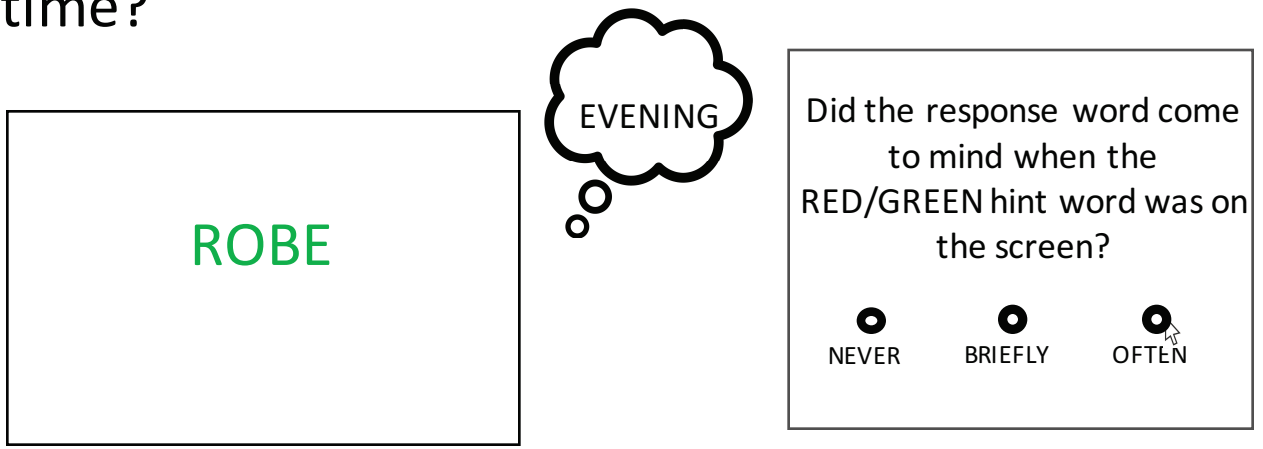
If the hint word was red, then you should have tried to block the response word from coming to mind. You may not always succeed in blocking the response word. Try to be honest! Did it come to mind at all during that time?





If the hint word was green, then you should have tried to think of the response word. You may not always succeed in remembering the response word. Try to be honest! Did it come to mind at all during that time?